

LEGAL SEPARATION WITHOUT CHILDREN

STARTING A CASE

BOTH PARTIES WILL SIGN

YOU CAN USE THIS PACKET IF ALL THIS IS TRUE:

- You and your spouse want a legal separation.
- Your spouse will sign an agreement to all the issues in the case, including spousal support and dividing property and debts.
- You do not have a covenant marriage.
- You or your spouse live in Arizona.
- You and your spouse do not have children under age 18, and the wife is not pregnant by the husband.
- Your spouse is not on active duty with the military.

Before signing a court document or getting involved with a court case, it's important to see an attorney to make sure you know your legal rights and responsibilities. The Self-Help Center has information on finding an attorney.

INSTRUCTIONS

1 Decide how to divide property and debts

You'll enter this information on the Petition later in these instructions.

Community Property and Debts: In general, community property is property (other than a gift or inheritance to one party) that you and your spouse acquire after you were married and before one spouse serves divorce papers on the other. See the Petition for a list of types of community property. One type of community property is retirement benefits (pension/retirement fund/profit sharing/stock plans/401k). Division of retirement benefits is a complicated area of the law. After the judge divides the retirement benefits, you will have to contact an attorney, accountant, or company representative to get the documents needed to access the retirement monies.

In general, community debts are debts you and your spouse acquire after you were married and before one spouse serves divorce papers on the other, no matter who spent the money. Generally, the court will order a fair division and will not give most or all of the property or debts to one spouse. If you and/or your spouse still owe money on a piece of property, the court will probably give that debt to the same spouse who gets that property. You may ask that real property be sold and the proceeds divided between you and your spouse. Community property and debts you fail to list on the Petition will be considered still owned or owed by both you and your spouse.

Separate Property and Debts: In general, separate property is property you or your spouse acquire before you were married, after one spouse serves divorce papers on the other, or as an inheritance or gift to one party. Separate property may become commingled community property in some circumstances.

In general, separate debts are debts you or your spouse acquire before you were married or after one spouse serves divorce papers on the other.

The court usually will confirm that your separate property and debts are yours and your spouse's separate property and debts are your spouse's.

We believe that no duress or coercion is involved in these agreements. We understand we each may retain legal counsel of our choice. We understand we are waiving the right to trial. We believe the division of property in this Decree is fair and equitable. At least 60 days have passed since the Petition was served on Respondent, or Respondent waived formal service in a Joint Petition and Response. We do not have a covenant marriage. We have no biological or adopted children together, and the wife is not pregnant by the husband. We understand the effect this Decree would have on any protective orders between us. The conciliation provisions have been met or do not apply. The parties have no biological or adopted children together, and the wife is not pregnant by the husband.

NOTICE REGARDING COMMUNITY DEBTS (ARS 25-318)

In your property settlement agreement or decree of dissolution or legal separation, the court may assign responsibility for certain community debts to one spouse or the other. Please be aware that a court order that does this is binding on the spouses only and does not necessarily relieve either of you from your responsibility for these community debts. These debts are matters of contract between both of you and your creditors (such as banks, credit unions, credit card issuers, finance companies, utility companies, medical providers and retailers).

Since your creditors are not parties to this court case, they are not bound by court orders or any agreements you and your spouse reach in this case. On request, the court may impose a lien against the separate property of a spouse to secure payment of debts that the court orders that spouse to pay.

You may want to contact your creditors to discuss your debts as well as the possible effects of your court case on your debts. To assist you in identifying your creditors, you may obtain a copy of your spouse's credit report by making a written request to the court for an order requiring a credit reporting agency to release the report to you. Within thirty days after receipt of a request from a spouse who is a party to a dissolution of marriage or legal separation action, which includes the court and case number of the action, creditors are required by law to provide information as to the balance and account status of any debts for which the requesting spouse may be liable to the creditor. You may wish to use the following form, or one that is similar, to contact your creditors:
